Re: FTC et al. v. Quincy Bioscience Holding Co., Inc. et al. (No. 17-cv-00124-LLS)

Dear Judge Stanton:

In advance of the trial in this matter scheduled to begin on February 21, 2024, the parties respectfully submit this joint letter requesting additional time to present opening statements. The parties understand that, pursuant to Your Honor's Individual Practices, opening statements shall be limited to 10 minutes, unless the case is unusually complex. The parties have collectively estimated that they will require up to 22 days to present their cases, and believe the opening statements in this case will summarize numerous complex technical issues relating to the evaluation of scientific evidence. Therefore, the parties respectfully request that each party be allotted 20 minutes for opening statements, and that the Court so order this additional allotment of time.
